

Jeff and Janis

A Guitar and Vocal Duo

Jeff Winter and Janis Fine, known professionally as "Jeff and Janis" have been entertaining audiences for over ten years with their memorable and engaging performances. Their shows bring lively cabaret style presentations of standards, Broadway melodies, little known gems from American folk and Tin Pan Alley traditions, and delightful duets that inspire their audiences to come back for more. Jeff and Janis blend guitar, autoharp, soft percussion, and harmonica with their intimate and refreshing harmonies to present songs in multiple languages including Yiddish, Hebrew, Italian, and the occasional Russian melody.

Jeff and Janis perform nearly fifty shows each year and have been featured on WGN radio "Sunday Papers" with Rick Warren, WFMT's noted "Folkstage", the Midnight Special, festivals, fund raisers, private celebrations, and are available for concerts of various sizes. Articles about "Jeff and Janis" have appeared in the Skokie Review and other publications in the Midwest.

Based in the Chicago area, Jeff Winter and Janis Fine are professors of education at local universities. They can be contacted through email at jwin27@aol.com or phone at 847.677.5821.
